Do you have a knack for accessing great resources? Are you passionate about higher education? Do you love group strategy sessions? How about the passion and desire to make substantial impact in the life of a local student struggling to overcome poverty and adversity and succeed in higher education?

Seattle Education Access is currently accepting new volunteers for our Resources & Outreach Committee

Volunteers for the SEA Resources & Outreach Committee can serve in multiple ways:

- In the comfort of your own home and with guidance from committee strategy sessions, explore a broad variety of practical resources regarding scholarships, advocacy, housing, medical services and more.

And/or

- Drop-in Center: Volunteer anytime on Monday-Friday, 12pm-3pm. Assist students with finding resources, applying for scholarships, filling out paperwork/applications, creating a resume, connect to resources and other details that address a broad spectrum of barriers to higher education success.

And/or

- Provide mentorship to a specific student: Our students often need non-academic support, such as: finding an apartment, looking for a job, finding child care, getting their birth certificate or drivers license, and cheering them on as the work towards graduation.

SEA provides higher education advocacy and opportunity to people struggling to overcome poverty and adversity.
